GERMANY SURRENDERS WAR IN EUROPE OVER

By EDWARD KENNEDY

REIMS, France, May 7 (AP)—Germany surrendered unconditionally to the Western Allies and Russia at 2:41 a. m. French time today.

(This wasn't 8:41 p. m., Eastern War Time, Sunday.)

The surrender took place at a little red schoolhouse which is the headquarters of Gen. Eisenhower.

The surrender which brought the war in Europe to a formal end after five years, eight months and six days of blood and destruction was signed for Germany by Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, new chief of staff of the German army.

It was signed for the Supreme Allied Command by Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, chief of staff for Gen.

Eisenhower.

It was also signed by Gen. Ivan Susloparoff for Russia and by Gen. Francois Sevez for France.

Gen. Eisenhower was not present at the signing, but immediately afterward Jodl and his fellow delegate, Gen.-Adm. Hans Georg Friedeburg, were received by the supreme commander.

They were asked sternly if they understood the surrender terms imposed upon Germany and if they would be carried out by Germany. They answered yes.

Germany, which began the war with a ruthless attack upon Poland followed by successive aggressions and brutality in internment camps, surrendered with an appeal to the victors for mercy toward the German people and armed forces.

After signing the full surrender, Jodl said he wanted to speak and was given leave to do so.

"With this signature," he said in soft-spoken German, "the German people and armed forces are for better or worse delivered into the victors' hands."

"In this war, which has lasted more than five years, both have achieved and suffered more than perhaps any other people in the world."

'We Quit' Statement

LONDON, May 7 (AP)—An announcement attributed to the new German foreign minister, Count Scherwin von Krosigk, and broadcast on the wavelength of the Flensburg radio, which has been carrying German communiques and orders for several days, said:

German men and women! The high command of the armed forces has today at the order of Grand Adm. Doenitz declared the unconditional surrender of all fighting German troops.

As the leading minister of the Reich government which the admiral of the fleet (Doenitz) has appointed for the winding up of all military tasks I turn at this tragic moment of our history to the German nation.

After a heroic fight of almost six years of incomparable hardness, Germany has succumbed to the overwhelming power of her enemies. To continue the war would only mean senseless bloodshed and a futile disintegration.

A government which has a feeling of responsibility for the future of its nation was compelled to act on the collapse of all physical and material forces and to demand of the enemy the cessation of hostilities.

It was the noblest task of admiral of the fleet and of the government supporting him—after the terrible sacrifices which he demanded—to save in the last phase of the war the lives of a maximum number of fellow countrymen.

That the war was not ended immediately, simultaneously in the west and in the east, is to be explained by this reason alone.

We end this gravest hour of the German nation and its Reich.

In this gravest hour of the German nation and its Reich we bow in deep reverence before the dead of this war.

Their sacrifices place the highest obligations on us. Our sympathy goes first to our soldiers. It goes out above all to the wounded, the bereaved and to all on whom this struggle has inflicted blows.

No one must be under the illusions about the severity of the terms to be imposed on the German people by our enemies. We must now face our fate squarely and unquestioningly.

Nobody can be in any doubt that the future will be difficult for each one of us and will exact sacrifices from us in every sphere.

We must accept this burden and stand loyally by the obligations we have undertaken. But we must not despair and fall into mere resignation. Once again we must set ourselves to stride along the path through the dark future. These are the factors guaranteeing the best state: Unity, justice and liberty.

From the collapse of the past, let us preserve and save one thing—unity, the ideas of the national community which in the years of war have found their highest expression in the spirit of comradeship at the front and readiness to help one another in all the distress which has afflicted the homeland.

Shall we retain this unity and not again split up under the stress? (Two or three words indistinct.) Can we get over the future hard times? We must make right the basis of our nation. In our nation justice shall be the supreme law and the guiding principle.

We must also recognize law as the basis of all relations between the nations; we must recognize it and respect it from inner conviction.

Respect for concluded treaties will be as sacred as the aim of our nation to belong to the European family of nations as a member of which we want to mobilize all human moral and material forces in order to heal the dreadful wounds which the war has caused.

Then we may hope that the atmosphere of hatred which today surrounds Germany all over the world, will give place to a spirit of reconciliation among the nations, without which the world cannot recover.

We will again receive the freedom without which no nation can lead a bearable and dignified existence. Let us devote the future of our nation to the meditation of the innermost and best forces of the German spirit, which has given the world lasting achievements and values.

To our pride in the heroic struggle of our nation, let us link (several words missing) of the Christian western civilization to make to the honest work of peace a contribution which shall be worthy of the best traditions of our nation.

May God not leave us in our efforts. May He bless our difficult task.

At the conclusion the announcer said:

"We will now observe three minutes of silence."

Nazi Radio Gives First Peace News

LONDON, May 7 (AP)—The greatest war in history ended today with the unconditional surrender of Germany. The surrender of the Reich was announced officially after German broadcasts told the German people that Grand Adm. Karl Doenitz had ordered the capitulation of all fighting forces, and called off the U-Boat war.

Joy at the news was tempered only by the realization that the war against Japan remains to be resolved, with many casualties still ahead.

Unconditional surrender of the beaten remnants of Hitler's legions first was announced by the Germans.

The historic news began breaking with a Danish broadcast that Norway had been surrendered unconditionally by its conquerors.

Then the new German Foreign Minister, Ludwig Schwerin von Krosigk, announced to the German people, shortly after 2 p. m. (8 a. m. eastern war time), that "after almost six years' struggle we have succumbed."

Von Krosigk announced Adm. Doenitz had "ordered the unconditional surrender of all fighting German troops."

The world waited tensely. Then at 9:35 a. m., E. W. T., came the Associated Press flash from Reims, France, telling of the signing at Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters of the unconditional surrender at 2:41 a. m., French time (8:41 p. m., Sunday, E. W. T.). Germany had given up to the Western Allies and to Russia.

Czech Germans Won't Surrender

LONDON, May 7 (AP)—A sour note came today in the surrender news from the German-controlled radio at Prague. A broadcast monitored by the Czechoslovak government offices here said the German commander in Czechoslovakia did not recognize the surrender of Adm. Doenitz and would fight on until his forces "have secured free passage for German troops out of the country."

ABSIE Radio Gave News

NEW YORK, May 7—CBS reported at 11:35 a. m. an announcement by ABSIE, official American broadcasting station in Europe, saying: "Germany has surrendered unconditionally. The war is officially over in Europe."

ABSIE said President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin "are expected to speak to the world shortly and announce the official end of the war in Europe."

Hub Thousands Offer V Thanksgiving Prayer

There was no dancing in the streets but there was joy in every heart in Boston today when the news came that Germany had surrendered unconditionally and that victory had crowned Allied arms in Europe.

The reaction of the majority was one of quiet thanksgiving—a reaction which sent thousands to churches of all faiths to offer grateful prayers of thanks for victory in Europe and for a speedy conclusion to the war with Japan. Announcement later in the day that tomorrow would be considered officially as V-E Day also served to check any outburst of uncontrolled enthusiasm.

Mayor Kerrigan and Governor Tobin, informed of the German surrender while attending funeral services for the father of City Censor John F. Spencer, hurried to their offices at the conclusion of the rites and conferred with various city and state officials on V-E Day plans.

Police Supt. Edward W. Fallon summoned all "long day" officers—those who ordinarily would come on duty at midnight tonight—to report at once to reinforce the 1400 police on duty today.

Fire Chief Samuel Pope also ordered all firemen to report at once to their stations.

First Service Command officials sent orders to all installations within an hour after the first news of German surrender for all personnel to stand by for orders being awaited from Washington.

At Hotel Buckminster, the headquarters Military Police detachment was alerted and by noon numerous trucks, lorries and command cars were drawn up outside, indicating leaves of

Crowds Shout, Sing In Rain of N.Y. Tape

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—Long-awaited V-E Day touched off in New York city an emotional storm that brought hundreds of persons to their knees to pray in the streets, caused milling crowds to shout, sing and throw their hats in the air while from a sunny sky showered down the inevitable confetti and ticker tape.

The news ran like an electric current through the sidewalk crowds. Men and women crossed themselves. Others bared their heads. Still others made of the place where they were walking an impromptu altar, kneeling in prayer on sidewalk and in doorways.

Tons of paper fluttered from office buildings on Rockefeller plaza, Times sq., Broadway and the financial district. Automobiles stopped bumper-to-bumper as drivers joined pedestrians.

A wave of sound rolled through the garment district as workers poured from buildings. Forgetting their jobs, many marched to Times sq.

Police, prepared many weeks ago for this day, quickly roped off Times sq. as thousands upon thousands of men and women paraded up and down, many carrying flags and banners.

There was marching and shouting and carnival spirit at Broad and Wall sts., financial heart of the nation. Over the babble of voices and raucous horns sounded the chimes of Trinity church as hundreds entered to kneel and pray.

In Grand Central terminal there was little of the milling excitement that characterized sidewalk crowds, but every public telephone booth was occupied by caller informing relatives and friends who might not have heard. Telephone switchboards were jammed.

Only a few minutes after the announcement went up on the New York Times bulletin board a crowd of 10,000 had gathered. Police were augmented quickly but the gay, happy crowd was not bent on vandalism, as many had feared.

One Manhattan store had this sign: "Oh, say can you see and feel the glory of this day of days? We salute the memory of the men who will never come back and they will live in our hearts."

Traffic in lower Manhattan was almost at a standstill. Boats in the harbor cut loose with whistles.

Public and parochial schools called students to assembly rooms for special services. Brooklyn Navy Yard workers kept on the job but held a service at noon.

Churches throughout the city were crowded. Many women, not even waiting to don coats, hurried to church. Some were crying. Strangers embraced one another.

Hours after the news came, paper still cascaded from office windows and Mayor LaGuardia requested radio stations to broadcast appeals to citizens to save paper.

LONDON, May 7 (INS)—The British ministry of information announced late this evening that tomorrow will be V-E Day. It will be a public holiday as will Wednesday. Prime Minister Churchill will broadcast at 3 p. m. (9 a. m. EWT) and King George at 9 p. m. (3 p. m. EWT), the announcement said.

The ministry statement said that in accordance with arrangements between the United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia, Churchill will broadcast an official announcement proclaiming V-E Day in Europe.

Therefore tomorrow, Tuesday, May 8, 1945, will become V-E Day in Europe.

Parliament will meet at the usual time tomorrow.

Truman Proclamation Waits Agreed Time

WASHINGTON, May 7 (INS)—President Truman today made no comment on the widespread reports that Germany had surrendered unconditionally but in a White House statement said:

"I have agreed with the London and Moscow governments that I will make no announcement with reference to surrender of the enemy forces in Europe or elsewhere until a simultaneous statement can be made by the three governments," Mr. Truman's statement said.

"Until then there is nothing I can or will say to you."

Mr. Truman's reference to the three governments meant the United States, Great Britain and Russia.

Daniels obtained the statement from President Truman after reports were carried to him by press correspondents that the Ministry of Information in London had announced that tomorrow would be treated as V-E Day and that Prime Minister Churchill would go on the radio at 9 a. m. (E.W.T.) and King George would make an address in the evening.

Canada Proclaims Tomorrow Holiday

OTTAWA, May 7 (AP)—The government today proclaimed tomorrow a public holiday in Canada, and next Sunday as a day of thanksgiving.

J. L. Hisey, acting prime minister, said in a nationwide broadcast:

"The hearts of Canadians will be filled not so much with the pride of conquest as with relief and Thanksgiving and firm resolution to carry on the war until our enemy in the Far East meets the just fate that surely awaits him."

Bells of St. Peter's To Ring for V-E Day

VATICAN CITY, May 7 (INS)—Pope Pius XII tonight received notification while walking in the Vatican gardens that V-E Day will be proclaimed tomorrow.

He ordered the bells of St. Peter's and other Roman churches rung in celebration.

BULLETIN

STOCKHOLM, May 7 (AP)—The newspaper Expressens said in a dispatch from the Norwegian frontier today that a German march across the Swedish border into internment would begin this afternoon under capitulation terms.

Yanks Wild With Joy In London

LONDON, May 7 (AP)—Thousands of American soldiers around Piccadilly circus celebrated the surrender news today.

At the Rainbow Corner Red Cross Club, biggest in London, a sign was posted in the lobby informing all American Army personnel that upon official notice of V-E day all passes and furloughs are to be extended 48 hours.

Soldiers screamed, yelled, shouted, hugged and kissed one another.

Cpl. Charles Weatherford, Florence, Ala., stationed at the club, said, "This is the roughest day I have ever had and it is getting rougher."

Pvt. George Koerner, St. Louis, Mo., came up, threw his arms around Weatherford and said, "Kiss me, Bud."

Flags adorned the whole facade of the Criterion restaurant facing the Circus. Street crowds shrieked at spectators on the balcony. Soldiers stood shoulder to shoulder on the sidewalks and spilled out into the street, virtually halting traffic.

Men, women and children waved United Nations flags.

"On with the war against the Japs," said Sgt. Harold Trasson, Cottonport, La.

"Greatest moment of my life," declared PFC Russell E. Wiss, Coshocton, O.

AP Suspended All Over Europe

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, May 7 (INS)—Allied military authorities today ordered suspension of Associated Press filing of news dispatches from everywhere in the European Theater of Operations as the result of publication of a dispatch that Germany has surrendered unconditionally.

This order was authorized for publication but there was no textual announcement. (There was no denial of the truth of the story of the surrender.)

The Associated Press in New York said that after receipt of Edward Kennedy's dispatch from Reims telling of the German surrender only two minor dispatches had been received in New York from the AP bureau in Paris up to 12:30 p. m. Eastern War Time.

How Big News Came

The Associated Press' detailed account of the formal signing of Germany's unconditional surrender to the Allies came directly from Edward Kennedy, chief of the AP staff on the Western Front. Kennedy's dispatch was transmitted via Paris from Reims. Gen. Eisenhower's advance headquarters, to the London office of the AP, and relayed from there to New York via AP's leased cable facilities.

Notables Here Weigh Victory

Leaders of state, city and county governments, heads of all religious faiths and outstanding representatives of the judiciary, business and industry made the following comment on the news of unconditional surrender of Germany and victory in Europe:

Here are the statements of civic, ecclesiastical and military notables on the wars end:

ABP. RICHARD J. CUSHING—At this news the instinctive response to all hearts is "Thank God!" What these glorious tidings mean to the mothers and fathers; to the sisters, sweethearts and cherished friends of soldiers still under arms in Germany, no language could tell. But all of us feel at this moment a gratitude which wells from the sincerest depths of our hearts. Thank God, we say, and we say it with a fervor never felt before.

Darkening our exultation is the thought of the young lives this victory has cost. Tempering our joy is the awareness that the fanatical, never-say-die Japanese still remain to be conquered. And no V-E Day can be complete while the life of a single American serviceman remains in jeopardy. Still, the defeat of Germany is a gigantic hurdle surmounted. It signifies also that the Pacific victory is nearer, more certain, and that it will cost fewer lives.

I know that all will pray with me for a three-fold intention... First, for the eternal peace of the heroes who sleep beneath white crosses in Iwo Jima, and other soldier graves all over the world; secondly, as a heartfelt thanksgiving to God, who has once again preserved us as a nation; and lastly for the intention that we may now achieve a peace of justice, a peace worthy of the battlefields' untold sacrifice.

SEN. DAVID I. WALSH—The first thought that comes to mind on this V-E Day is that of profound gratitude to the Almighty that the long and horrifying cataclysm in Europe has ended. All Americans, I feel certain, share this feeling.

Sen. Walsh

The next thought that this day evokes is one of gratitude to those who made this victory possible and particularly to those who have served our country in combat so gallantly and heroically, many of whom have lost their lives, on land and sea and in the air. We must never forget them and once more renew our pledge in this solemn hour to never forget any one of them or the members of their families, to the end that they may live in happiness and security to the end of their lives.

We pledge also today that we will unceasingly support our armed forces to carry on the war against Japan as speedily as possible.

GOVERNOR TORIN—This is a day for which we have been waiting and praying. The fighting has ended in one theater of war. And for that every American will offer grateful prayers of thanks. Our prayers on V-E Day last June have been answered. In the European theater of war our men have won the greatest military victory the world has ever known. But this war is still far from over. And today should be a day of prayer rather than a day of wild celebration.

Let us go to our churches and our synagogues and offer prayers. Prayers of thanks for the victory that is ours today. Prayers of thanks that the day of peace is nearer. Prayers for help and guidance from the Almighty God in the difficult days that still lie ahead. Prayers for the men who have bought this day of victory with their life blood—for the men who aren't coming home when the bells joyfully peal their chimes of peace.

Let us solemnly pledge ourselves to do everything within our power to hasten the day when those men still under arms will come back to their homes and to their loved ones. When Japan is crushed and peace is restored throughout the world, when every man in a Japanese prison camp is liberated and the fight ahead is won there will be cause for a joyful celebration in which all of us may join.

Let us remember that before we come to the end of this long road of war many more fine young Americans will give their lives in the cause of justice and peace. Let us remember that thousands of gold stars—symbols of the greatest sacrifices—mothers and fathers can make for their country will continue to be placed in the windows of those sacred places we in America call—Home. On this day of thanksgiving—this day of hope and prayer—as Governor of the Commonwealth I ask all the people of Massachusetts to join me in prayer for an early end to the war against Japan and for the swift and safe return of the men so gallantly serving their country.

MAYOR KERRIGAN—The defeat of Germany is a victory for God. The armor of righteousness has defeated brute force. European civilization has been rescued from the vilest foe that ever challenged it. This is a time for reverent thanksgiving. It is a time for prayer. Let us go to our churches and our synagogues and thank God for the victory that has blessed our arms. Let us utter a prayer for those who have fallen in battle. Let us pray that we may be worthy of this victory. Let us pray that the victory that overpowered the enemy across the Atlantic may soon sweep across the Pacific and end the suffering, the bloodshed and the death humanity has suffered so long.

Until the enemy beyond the Pacific has been prostrated so that he can never rise again our prayers should never cease. Frivolous joy must not disturb this solemn hour for which all the suffering world has been awaiting with spiritual patience. Frantic outbursts of mirth and gaiety Mayor Kerrigan must not be permitted to mar this sacred hour. The defeat of Germany has not ended the agonies of war. The mothers and

A Prayer For V-E Day

By ARCHBISHOP FRANCIS J. SPELLMAN

O God of Destiny!

Our nation, still bleeding from the wounds of war, thanks Thee for the victory of this hour. Won by our valiant dead, our soldiers' blood, our country's tears.

We were not alone when we groped through the night of war, when we drank the cup of grief. Thou, Lord God of Hosts, wert with us. For we were with Thee.

O God of Mercy!

Thou didst become our shield and sword when lawless nations rose against us. Thou didst save us by Thy power that works in justice, by Thy compassion upon our passion.

O God of Nations!

Thou hast builded this nation in a vast wilderness, quickening it with the blood of many peoples. Thou hast nurtured us in a chosen land potent with the riches of the earth. Thou hast made us into a mighty nation, loving peace, yet terrible in war.

O God of Law!

Thy laws are force, ruling planet and plant, disposing all fathers whose sons are buried in foreign graves and the wives whose husbands never will come home again will not find this an occasion for demonstrations of uncontrolled joy. They will find it an occasion for thoughtful prayer for other mothers, fathers and wives whose dear ones, now alive, may soon be called upon to give their lives that the Asiatic foe may be beaten into permanent submission.

R. ADM. FELIX X. GYGAX—I believe the capitulation of Germany should cause us to rejoice in having passed an important milestone on the road to ultimate victory and lasting peace.

With Germany beaten, we can turn all our guns on Japan. Complete victory in the Pacific will then mark our real V-Day.

COM. W. N. DERRY of the Coast Guard—By God's grace and the courage of free men, the victory in Europe has been won. We rejoice in the achievements of our fighting men and sorrow with the loved ones of our fallen heroes. Half the military job has been completed. Let us get on with what remains in the Orient.

DANIEL BLOOMFIELD, Secy. Boston Retail Trade Board—The Retail Trade Board feels this not a time for celebration but for things mightily and gently. Thy laws are light, guiding men's hearts and minds. By the meas-prayer and strengthening of our determination to destroy the enemy in the Pacific.

We still have a war to win and every ounce of energy must be applied to enable war industries to meet the accelerated needs of our armed forces in the Pacific.

RABBI HERMAN H. RUBENOVITZ, President of the Rabbinical Ass'n of Greater Boston—The collapse and disintegration of Nazi power by the onslaught of the Allied armies should fill us with a sense of awe and devout thankfulness to Almighty God. It is to the remainder of our task, that of the complete destruction of Japanese might and influence, that we must now consecrate the best and unflinching effort of hand and heart.

God give us and our Allies the strength and the will to speed that day, the V-Day for all the oppressed and exploited wherever they may be.

BISHOP RAYMOND A. HERON of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts—Praise God our prayers have been answered. The war on one front is over.

If we are moved to celebrate, let us hold in our memory the countless days of pain and suffering that mankind has passed through, is passing through, will still pass through.

Surely this is the hour in which ure of Thy laws nations and men wax and wane, for what they sow, they also reap. Thou wilt not be mocked, O God of Law. Make us to know and to obey Thy will.

O God of Justice!

Repent not making of us an instrument of right, spending our blood, spilling it freely, curbing mad nations; but grant that in victory we not offend Thy justice by revenge, sinning against mercy, by hate destroying also ourselves, turning upon ourselves the wrath of Thy judgment.

O God of Peace!

We thank Thee that the clouds of war are lifting, we pray Thee that the peace that comes be Thy peace, Thy peace, which alone is our good, a peace in obedience to Thy laws. Thou callest us to feed the hungry, to clothe the naked, to defend man's rights and God's rights, and in that service, to win back men's hearts to Thee, and make man worthy of Thy trust in him by man's trust in Thee.

to dedicate ourselves to the high purpose of bringing the war against Japan to a speedy close.

JOHN B. ATKINSON, city manager of Cambridge—It is only natural that the victory should be celebrated by the citizens of Cambridge but in the midst of this joyous celebration we must give solemn thought to the long and painful battles yet to be fought with Japan before we achieve total victory and world wide peace.

All should visit the church of their choice and pray for the 300 Cambridge boys who made the supreme sacrifice and for the 10,000 others who are even now carrying the fight to the Japs in the Pacific.

Mrs. Patton Says:

Mrs. George S. Patton, wife of the colorful Third Army commander, said today she greeted the peace news "on my knees." "I'm on my knees. What else can any good American say at this moment," she asked reporters.

She declined to elaborate on that statement, explaining "it is not for me to say anything else at this time."

Mrs. Patton said she was packing to leave for Washington immediately.

PRAYERS OF THANKSGIVING—Children of the North End whose daddies and brothers have been fighting in Europe, kneel at the altar of St. Leonard's Church, North End, to offer prayers of thanksgiving now that their loved ones have come through the ordeal.

It was the climax of weeks of careful preparation by the Boston American, Record and Sunday Advertiser to maintain its reputation for bringing the important news first to its readers.

The flash came across the Associated Press wire at 9:35 a. m. "Flash, Reims, France--Allies officially announced Germany surrendered unconditionally."

That was the signal for concerted action and editors clustered around the printer waiting for the bulletin which followed seconds later.

The necessary mechanical steps followed with clocklike precision and at exactly 9:40 a. m. the presses began to roar and the "Extras" poured forth by the thousands to be rushed to the streets with the huge headline, "War in Europe Ends."

A dispatch received a half hour earlier, reporting that German radio announced surrender of all German forces, had been sent out in a special edition and paved the way for preparation of the edition officially announcing the capitulation from Reims, France.

It was another in a long series of "firsts" for these newspapers. Almost a year ago, when Allied forces stormed ashore on the blood-stained beaches of Normandy, it was the Boston American which led all opposition by three hours in bringing the news of D-Day to its readers in Boston and New England.

Throughout the long and bloody war, it has been the same story, with these papers leading all others in getting the important news first to the reading public.

It was the same story when the Japs made their treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. Again the Record blanketed all opposition for 12 hours with the news and details on the stab in the back delivered at the nation's mighty Pacific naval base.

Last month, when the late President Roosevelt died at Warm Springs, the Record brought the story to Boston seven hours ahead of any opposition.

Twice-Wed Wife Sends Love to 1st Flier-Hubby

LONG BEACH, Cal., May 7—There were tears in the eyes of Mrs. Helen Goad-MacDowell today as she searched her heart and wracked her mind in an effort to find a way out of the double-matrimony misadventure which has made her the wife of two servicemen, one of whom she thought was dead.

The petite 23-year-old blonde married Ens. Robert A. MacDowell of Saugerties, N. Y., last December, six months after the War Department notified her unqualifiedly that death had come to her first husband, Lt. Harold W. Goad, a bomber pilot.

Now the War Department has notified her of its mistake. Goad, who is 27 and a native of Portsmouth, O., was liberated from a Jap prison camp in Rangoon, after 18 months of privation. His plane exploded over Burma Oct. 14, 1943, after he had dived out of formation to prevent hitting other planes of the formation.

Goad was blown through the fuselage with two other members of the crew but all survived and were captured by the Japs.

While the wives of servicemen throughout the country waited expectantly for the young matron to make her choice between the two fighting men, she cabled Lt. Goad, now in Calcutta:

"Darling, am so glad to hear you are alive. Will see you soon. I love you with all my heart."

It appeared, therefore, that the little blonde might find a way out of her marriage to Ens. MacDowell yet she declared:

"I'm faced with a decision I can't make at present. I was convinced beyond all doubt that my first husband was dead before I married again. I'm not going to make any move until I see him."

Ens. MacDowell, who has been stationed at a Navy installation at Miami, had been expected to communicate with her, but it was reported he might be on his way to her.

In Calcutta, the Associated Press reported, Lt. Goad sat on the edge of a cot in a hospital where he and other Jap prison camp inmates are recuperating and said:

"I thought I could take anything, but this is tougher than anything I have been through. I would like to get a telephone call through to my wife. I just can't decide anything until I talk with her."

Lt. Goad had cabled her of his return from the "dead." He said: "I couldn't say very much in 20 words, and that was all the government would let me send her."

There is no likelihood the double-wife will be prosecuted for bigamy in this state. Municipal Judge Martin DeVries pointed out that under California law she is not subject to prosecution, since she entered into the second marriage innocently. That wedding was illegal and must be annulled, he said. If she should choose her second husband nevertheless she would have to divorce her first and remarry, the jurist explained.

Uncertain as to Future

What Would You Do Real Love Must Rule 2-Hubby Girl

True love—that's the only thing that should guide Mrs. Goad-MacDowell in her dilemma.

Everyone around town today had a lot of ideas on the problem, but they all concluded by saying, "she should be married to the one she loves the most."

"Her duty is to Lt. Goad," said one marine at South Station who had fought at Guadalcanal. "He gave up a lot for her," but then got dreamy-eyed and said, "love's the only thing that matters. True love," he said.

All had great sympathy with Mrs. Goad-MacDowell, but one sailor who at first said she should divorce MacDowell, added, "No, the one dearest in her heart."

One girl whose husband is missing in action felt that Goad had first priority, but that for a happy life she should stay with the man who had made her happiest.

Well, it's a nice May day and people's hearts are lighter, and they seemed to feel that love, love, love, should guide the way for anyone in any dilemma.

Reds' Jap Stand Waited

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7 (AP)—The United States and Britain were reported by United Nations Conference officials today to have demanded of Russia that she supply her evidence against the 16 arrested leaders of the Polish underground.

The aim is to break the latest Big Three deadlock over Poland. It is part of a strategy sidetracking the Polish row from the main line of the conference in order that the Big Three may try for maximum unity in designing a peace organization for future peace.

The goal is to shift the dispute to Washington, London and Moscow, getting from the Russians a full explanation of the arrests. President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill are reported to have intervened directly with Marshall Stalin.

Foreign Commissar Molotov is slated to quit San Francisco for Moscow around mid-week. So long as he is here, speculation continues that Russia may give the conference a sensation by making known her future plans toward Japan. The collapse of German armies has stimulated this speculation.

Word spread today that Stalin may have replied favorably to Molotov's request for instructions on the review and regional arrangements amendments to the Dumbarton Oaks charter, left over from last Friday night's meeting of the Big Four.

If this information proves correct, a scheduled meeting of foreign ministers today could produce complete harmony on the changes the Big Four want in the Dumbarton Oaks plan.

Perhaps the greatest developing issue is the demand of the Latin American countries that the Pan-American security system be made independent of the proposed world security council in using force to block aggression.

The Big Five countries—Russia, the United States, Britain, China and France—continued in a tangle over what to do about a plan for international trusteeships, with another meeting of their delegates scheduled today.

The latest blowup was touched off publicly at a news conference by Sec. Stettinius Saturday. His statement said Molotov had informed Stettinius and Eden that the Polish leaders had been arrested on a charge of "diversionist activities against the Red army."

Stettinius termed these men "prominent Polish democratic leaders" and said Eden and he had asked Molotov for a complete list of those arrested and a "full explanation of this action."

U. S. Bombers Sink 35 More Jap Ships

By Associated Press

American bombers reaching out from the Philippines and Okinawa, where Yank ground forces killed 23,221 Japanese in ten days, have sunk 35 more Jap ships and damaged

17 others, U. S. "On-to-Tokyo" commanders announced yesterday and today.

A Jap breakthrough in central China to within 35 miles of the U. S. air base at Chihkiang was the only blight on Allied ground offensives.

The U. S. 10th Army resumed its general offensive on Okinawa after killing 3000 Japanese in last Friday's counterattack.

In the Philippines the 25th Division captured the last hill mass controlling the Balete Pass entrance to fertile Cagayan valley of northern Luzon. The 24th and 31st pushed northward on Mindanao still hunting for the main force of 40,000 Japanese reported to be on the island.

Australians captured the air-drome and two oil fields, major military objectives on Tarakan off the Borneo coast, in the newest Pacific offensive and in one of the oldest campaigns smashed to within three miles of Wewak on the north central New Guinea coast.

British forces captured two more towns in Burma as they began mopping up about 100,000 Japs stranded in the territory.

Chinese reported killing 3000 enemy soldiers in three continuing battles during which Chiang Kai-shek's men shattered the left wing of the thrust toward Chihkiang. The break-through in the center was the closest Japanese approach to the threatened U. S. air-drome.

Land-based bombers of Fleet Air Wing 2 joined Superfortresses in carrying the war to Japan. They have been raking shipping lanes up to the gates of Tokyo. Last Saturday they sank two large oilers among a bag of 19 ships caught in the straits between Japan and Formosa.

B-29s followed up today with another raid on Kyushu air bases—their 17th such strike since March 27. In last Saturday's three-pronged strike three Superfortresses were shot down.

These strikes are linked with the Okinawa campaign as was the first British warship bombardment in the Pacific—carried out against airdromes in the southern Ryukyus.

NEW YORK, May 7 (INS)—

Approximately 50,000 German troops in Norway will cross the border into Sweden for internment, an MBS correspondent reported today from Stockholm. The rest will be gathered in ports for evacuation under the convoy of British war vessels.

The MBS report added 300 Nazi submarines in Norwegian ports would be surrendered.

If women had a commanding voice in the "councils that make wars and always fail to keep the peace," wars would be less prevalent, Mayor Kerrigan told a meeting of the Jewish Tuberculosis Sanatorium at the Hotel Statler today.

Kerrigan said the San Francisco conference on world security, "may be the last opportunity for civilization to save itself."

High Court O. K's Mine Portal Pay

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today bituminous coal miners are entitled to portal-to-portal underground wages.

Justice Murphy delivered the court's 5-4 decision. Justice Jackson wrote a dissent in which Roberts, Frankfurter and Stone concurred.

The court on March 27, 1944, ruled iron ore miners must be paid for the time spent traveling from the mine opening to the actual working place and back again.

Today's decision was given on an appeal by the Jewel Ridge Coal Corp., employer of 900 men in two mines in southwest Virginia.

OPA Bans Sales Of Loose Cigarettes

WASHINGTON, May 7 (INS)—OPA today prohibited retail sales of loose cigarettes of any brand, effective May 12, to eliminate unnecessarily high prices.

Economy cigarettes sold at two packs for 25 cents will cost the consumer a half-cent more per package on sales during this period.

First Lady Will Still Make Famed Apple Pies for USO

By MARTHA KEARNEY

WASHINGTON, May 7 (INS)

—The First Family of the land has mapped out a presidential home life similar to that of Mr. and Mrs. America, an authentic White House source revealed today.

Mrs. Harry S. Truman plans to continue her cooking for the USO and her work for the Red Cross. The First Lady's culinary specialty is apple pie, which she will bake for GI customers of the USO exactly as she did before her husband became President.

Blonde Mary Margaret Truman will receive her beaux at the White House much as she did at the Vice-Presidential apartments. President Truman, by-passing the 12,000 gold piano in the vast East Room of the White House, is importing the old family piano to an upstairs family sitting room. The First Family expects to take up White House residence about May 15.

For the time being the White House staff will be unchanged. Mrs. James Meredith Helm will remain as social secretary to the First Lady until other arrangements are made.

Mrs. Truman, announcing that she will not hold news conferences, is not expected to change her mind.

Abp. Cushing Visits Sherborn

Citing the example of Mary Magdalene, Abp. Cushing told 400 women inmates of the Sherborn Reformatory today that their object in life now was to make a new start and avoid the pitfalls of the past.

News of the unconditional surrender of Germany came to the Archbishop during his address and he announced it immediately to the women, who cheered.

During his talk he also disclosed plans for a new girls' guidance center in Boston where they would be welcomed after leaving Sherborn and would be given inspiration and guidance in their start on a new life.

"You have three things to remember," he told the young women. "First, make a new start, avoiding the mistakes of the past. Second, never be discouraged and always avoid the old associations which were the pitfalls of the past. Third, remember that you can't do it alone but need the help of God and those who are trying to help you."

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—I enlisted in the Navy Dec. 15, 1941, and was given an honorable discharge April 13, 1942, due to a nervous condition. During the past three years my doctor has told me he considers my condition normal. Is there any chance of my enlisting in the Army or Navy, and where do I apply. I received $100 mustering-out pay. Am I entitled to more? P. R. Chelsea.

A—It will be necessary to get the approval of your draft board to re-enlist in the armed forces. Suggest you contact local draft officials. You should have received $200 mustering-out pay. Write Bureau of Supply and Accounts, Cleveland, Ohio, Care of Mustering-Out Pay Division.

Q—I have a son serving in the Army, now in Belgium. He keeps writing home about a Belgian girl he has met, saying he expects to marry her and stay there for awhile. Is he allowed to get married while overseas, and how about his staying there? C. L. J. Charlestown.

A—If he receives permission from Army officials he may get married. About his staying, that too comes under the jurisdiction of Army authorities. It is possible he might be assigned to Occupation Army and remain, but he will return to United States eventually.

Q I was discharged from Army Dec. 3, 1940, after serving 14 months and was given P. C. D. Reason, amputated leg. Am I entitled to mustering-out pay? V. A. S. Allston.

A—You are not entitled to mustering-out pay. The discharge pay benefit includes those honorably discharged after Dec. 7, 1941, for reasons other than to enter defense work.

Q—Will the government pay expenses for instruction in a correspondence school in order to learn a trade? C. M. O. Boston.

A—The Veterans Bureau says "no." Advise you to contact local bureau if you are eligible for educational benefits. Those in the armed forces, however, are eligible to apply for correspondence school courses offered by the government.

Q—My son is expecting a medical discharge from the Coast Guard. He joined prior to Pearl Harbor. What benefits will he receive from Federal and State governments? He has a wife and child. M. A. Boston.

A—He is eligible to apply for pension from Veterans Administration if discharge was result of service-connected injuries. If he served overseas he will receive $500 mustering-out pay. If not, the amount is $200. Also all G. I. Bill benefits. The state has not yet passed legislation regarding bonus to veterans. He is eligible also for veterans preference in both state and federal civil service examinations.

Q—Can you tell me if the government plans to lower the enlistment age in the women's branches of the armed forces. How does one make application to join the Red Cross Clubmobile unit, and what are the qualifications? E. T. Norwood.

A—There will be no immediate lowering of the present age minimum, according to Washington officials. Regarding Red Cross, suggest you contact Red Cross headquarters in Boston, or necessary information may be obtained from your Norwood Chapter.

Q—Please tell me where to write regarding War Bonds my son has been buying while in the service. He is a PFC, now overseas. M. A. South Boston.

A—Write to War Bond Division, U. S. Army, 366 West Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

Q—If a soldier, under age, cannot marry without consent of his parents, but acknowledge paternity of a child, is he entitled to apply for allotment for baby? C. M. Hampton, N. H.

A—Yes, the child of a soldier is eligible for Family Allowance if the soldier is willing to submit a certified statement of paternity.

Questions submitted to Veterans' Friend Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, Mass., will be answered in this daily column.

THOMAS MOORE

In 1823 the roads were rough. So was life and the way of living. Men cut the logs from which their cabins were made, wore homespun clothes, smoked their own meat. Wilson whiskey was a product of those pioneer days: and set an early standard for quality. For Wilson was skillfully distilled and properly aged. No wonder it made friends then—122 years ago—and kept on making them down through the years.

History of Great War

A Germany thoroughly smashed in battle surrendered unconditionally to the western Allies and Soviet Russia at 2:41 a. m. today (8:41 p. m. Sunday, EWT), finishing history's bloodiest conflict after 2319 days. At least 40,000,000 men, women and children were casualties from this global war fired by Hitler's armored plunge into Poland on Sept. 1, 1939. Hitler's Reich lay shattered. Victory in Europe was won—at tremendous, unassessable cost in human lives and treasure. The Germany, which once overspread almost all of Europe, had dominated northern Africa

The Nazi juggernaut was well on its way now, and world-shaking events happened in rapid succession. On May 15 the Dutch army, tremulously outnumbered, surrendered, and on May 28 Belgium followed suit. On June 10 Italy, "stabbed France in the back," as President Roosevelt characterized it, and four days later the Nazis, having breached the vaunted Maginot line, took Paris. Eight days after that, France, betrayed by her leaders, collapsed, but in the meantime the British by a masterstroke had evacuated 335,000 men from Dunkirk to England in a heterogeneous fleet of small boats.

GREAT LONDON BLITZ

Flushed by his easy conquests, Hitler turned his attention to England with the boast he would wipe it literally off the map. The air "blitz" of London began on Sept. 7.

At the same time began the epic defense by the Royal Air Force, a little handful of fighting pilots whose superhuman efforts preserved England and gave America time to prepare.

Japan, avidly watching German successes, threw in with the Axis on September 27, and on November 20 Hungary signed up with the war lords who had announced they intended to conquer the world. Meantime the strutting Mussolini had invaded Greece, only to see his men chased out of the rugged, mountainous country by the intrepid Greeks.

On April 6, 1941, the Nazis launched an assault against both Greece and Yugoslavia to bolster the faltering Italian campaigns. The British had landed a token expeditionary force in Greece on March 12, but they were forced to withdraw, and on April 15 Yugoslavia surrendered.

FIRST HITLER MISTAKE

The outlook was black for the Allied forces, but on June 22 Hitler made his first of numerous mistakes. He demonstrated that the Red pact was nothing but a scrap of paper by invading Russia.

On Oct. 8 the Nazis captured Orel, and sweeping on with apparently irresistible force had taken Rostov, 1000 miles from their starting point. Nov. 22, by Nov. 23, however, the Red Army had recaptured Rostov and was holding. On Dec. 11, four days after the treacherous Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Hitler declared war on the United States. With the opening of the new year Allied fortunes were indeed at a low ebb. On Jan. 14 the sinking of the tanker Norfolk off Long Island started the Atlantic U-boat raids which for a time took terrific toll. The British had lost Crete, an air and naval base from which she could have hampered Axis strategy in the Mediterranean. On June 25 Hitler sent his favorite general, Field Marshal Rommel, to Africa with instructions to drive the British into the Red Sea.

STALIN TURNS TIDE

In the meantime, Red armies had been falling back, sparring for time and luring the Nazis farther and farther into the vast reaches of Russia. On Nov. 19 Stalin opened a winter counter-offensive which eventually trapped 22 Nazi divisions at Stalingrad and turned the tide. Allied fortunes were undoubtedly improving, for a short time later, Gen. Montgomery, equipped with American lend-lease, hurled his Eighth Army with terrific force at Rommel's corps and drove them in hurried retreat toward Tunisia. About this time American troops landed in Africa, the first to enter the war, and joining forces with Montgomery sent the Nazis fleeing back to Italy.

On May 12, 1943, the Axis troops left in Africa surrendered, and on July 9 Gen. Eisenhower, now commander-in-chief of Allied forces, struck at Sicily. Within a month the entire island was conquered.

July 12 was another red-letter day with the Red offensive drive that eventually cost the Nazis Orel, Bryansk, Kharkov, Novorossisk and threatened the Dnieper river line.

BADOLIO GOVT. QUILTS

With Allied troops about to land on the Italian boot, the declining fortunes of Hitler's partner, Mussolini, reached their lowest ebb, and on July 25 he was ousted, never again to play anything but the most minor part in the war. The Allied invasion of Italy came on Sept. 3 when Eisenhower's men struck at the "soft underbelly" of Axis Europe and breached the fortress wall. Five days later the Badoglio government surrendered, and Hitler created a puppet Fascist government.

With the beginning of the new year the tide had definitely turned. The Red armies were rolling and on Jan. 3 they smashed into Old Poland. By March 20 they had taken 40 Rumanian towns and the next day the Nazis seized all of Hungary, having lost the Baltic states.

ROME LIBERATED

Allied forces, which had landed on the beach at Salerno, found it hard going in Italy, but the Russians were still driving ahead.

By May 9 the Reds had retaken Sevastopol, and the momentum of their drive began to slow down. Allied forces in Italy, meanwhile, had inched slowly ahead, and by May 18 had forced the Nazis to quit Cassino. On June 4 Rome was liberated.

Two days later came the news for which the civilized world had been waiting. The Allies had invaded France.

A short time later came the breakthrough at St. Lo, after which Gen. Patton's Army chased the fleeing Nazi panzers across France, traveling so rapidly it was necessary for airplanes to drop him gasoline and supplies.

U. S. INVADERS REICH

On June 25 the Yankees had taken Cherbourg and on Aug. 23, with French forces, had entered Paris, an occasion for a hysterical celebration by the oppressed Parisians. On the same day Marseille had fallen.

The Reds took Lublin on July 25, and then settled down to regroup their armies and permit supplies to catch up with them.

On Sept. 4 the Yanks invaded Germany and there was premature rejoicing in this country in the belief that V-Day was at hand. British and Canadians, who had been given the difficult assignment of invading Holland, flooded by the retreating enemy, tried to take Arnhem with paratroopers in the hope of flanking the Siegfried line, but were unable to hold it after heroic fighting.

YANKS CROSS RHINE

Dec. 4 saw the Yanks crossing the Saar river, and hopes of an early victory ran high, but Marshal von Rundstedt had not exhausted all his resources. On Dec. 15 he launched a surprise counter-attack in Belgium, driving toward Liege and the sea, and splitting the American First Army.

No Official Word By Gen. Ike Yet

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—The following was heard in New York at 11:15 a. m. today coming via a special voice-cast channel from Paris to American news agencies and radio networks:

"Supreme headquarters authorized correspondents at 1645 Paris time (10:45 a. m. Eastern war time) today to state that SHAEF has made nowhere any official statement for publication to that hour concerning the complete surrender of all German armed forces in Europe, and that no story to that effect is authorized."

This announcement, from SHAEF in Paris, did not deny the truth of Edward Kennedy's dispatch from Reims giving details of the formal signing of the surrender, merely saying no story of German capitulation "is authorized."

With reference to the statement voiced from Supreme Headquarters, Robert Brunelle, managing executive for the Associated Press in the United Kingdom, cabled as follows:

"In reference to this statement, which raises the possibility that an embargo might have been imposed there (at SHAEF in Paris), there was no embargo on the flash or the subsequent material received from Kennedy, who told Hawkins (Lewis Hawkins, of the AP London staff):

"That's official; get it out."

"Later Kennedy inquired of Pitkin (Dwight Pitkin of the London staff) if the copy was moving satisfactorily through censorship."

Kennedy has been chief of AP war coverage in Europe virtually since the beginning of American Army engagements against the Germans.

A reporter for 20 years, Kennedy now is chief of the AP staff on the western front. After two years with the British in Africa

Five weeks were required to shatter the famous Von Rundstedt "bulge." Then, Jan. 14, the Red army liberated Warsaw. Feb. 8 Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin held the Yalta conference to plan for the death stroke against Germany.

American fighting men captured Cologne March 5 and two days later the first Allied crossing of the Rhine was made at Remagen. Vienna fell to the Red army April 13. American and Russian troops linked their fronts at Torgau, below Berlin, cutting Germany in two.

The world was electrified April 28 by the capture and execution of Benito Mussolini. Only three days later the Nazi radio announced Hitler had died and Adolf Doenitz had become his successor.

May 2 Stalin announced the Red army had completed the conquest of Berlin. The same day the unconditional surrender of German troops in Italy as well as southern Austria was announced. May 5, Saturday, the German forces in Holland, Denmark and northern Germany surrendered.

and Greece, he became head of the AP North African staff in Algiers in the spring of 1943 and directed coverage of the Sicilian and Italian invasions. He has followed Gen. Eisenhower's fortune since the landings in North Africa.

Kennedy, 39, and a native of Brooklyn, joined the Associated Press in 1932, and went abroad after three years on the Washington staff. He reported the Spanish civil war, later worked in Rome, and covered Hitler's entry into the Sudetenland.

Jodl, Signer, Hurst In Plot on Hitler

By the Associated Press

Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, who signed the unconditional surrender for Germany, apparently the same Gen. Alfred Jodl who was wounded last July 20 in the attempted assassination of Adolf Hitler.

The surrender dispatch said Jodl was the new German army chief of staff.

Precisely when he became chief of staff was not clear. Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian had occupied the position until the closing days of the siege of Berlin. His fate and whereabouts have not been reported since Berlin fell.

On March 17 Jodl inspected the Bavarian redoubt where the Nazis had hoped to make their last stand. Back in 1942 Jodl was reported to have been Hitler's personal aide.

U. S. to Keep Air Arm in Europe

LONDON, May 7 (AP)—All indications here point to the fact the U. S. Army is preparing to retain a strong air arm in Europe for police and transport duties long after the end of the war.

While there has been no official announcement concerning the size of the Allied occupational air force, it is estimated unofficially it probably will require a total of between 75,000 and 100,000 men in the ground crew alone. The force will be composed of both American and British planes and personnel, though not necessarily in equal numbers.

Presumably the American contingent will be drawn from both the Eighth and Ninth Air Force

Allies From East and West Crushed Hitler's Empire

MOMENTOUS RETREAT OF THE MODERN HUNS—This was the Allied road back from near defeat by conquering German armies. The road was long and hard and millions died before defeat came finally today for the Hitler gang. While the Americans and British battled shoulder to shoulder across North Africa, the Russians fought stubbornly to reclaim their country. The Big Three, joined later by a reborn France, slowly bent the German back and by invading Normandy, accomplished what Hitler's generals boasted could not be done. Then the Allied war machine—backed by the greatest air armada ever—gathered momentum, freeing nation after nation until Berlin itself lay a conquered heap of rubble.

military personnel probably would be cancelled with MPs traveling through the area to order soldiers on leave to report to stations. Members of the House and Senate held a joint observance of the surrender at the State House at 2 p. m. High ranking military and naval officials and leading members of the clergy were invited.

Prayers were offered by the Rev. Frederick May Eliot, Senate chaplain; Rev. Elmore Brown, House chaplain; Abp. Richard J. Cushing and Rabbi Joshua Leith Liebman of Temple Israel.

Governor Tobin, Lt.-Gov. Robert F. Bradford, Senate President Arthur W. Coolidge and House Speaker Frederick B. Willis made brief addresses, and the observance ended with singing of the national anthem by Rep. J. Everett Collins of Andover.

Stores and bars remained open, awaiting the official proclamation of V-E Day before acting on closing. In view of the later announcement tomorrow would be considered as the official V-E Day, closing of retail stores and liquor establishments was expected to be delayed until then.

Later in the day telegrams were sent to all distilleries and breweries in the State by the Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission, requesting cessation of all deliveries on official proclamation of V-E Day.

"The request is binding until different instructions are forwarded by the commission," the telegrams said.

Although liquor dispensing places remained open, there was no outburst of hilarity and most dealers reported business about as usual, although patrons drank toasts to the success of the Allies in Europe.

The news brought no stoppage of work in war plants and officials at the Quincy shipyard and the Hood Rubber plant in Watertown reported work of the surrender seemed to imbue workers with a desire to increased efforts rather than let down.

Labor leaders previously had called on union members to remain on the job and guard against letting down in the war effort or losing time by hilarious celebration.

The motto, generally, in industrial and war plants, seemed to be "On to Tokyo" rather than "Let's celebrate."

The man in the street took the news in stride. After many false alarms in recent weeks, most of the steam had been taken out of the long-awaited news of complete German surrender.

Newspapers with huge black headlines proclaiming the fall of Germany were snapped up by hundreds, but most, after a quick glance at the headlines, tucked papers under their arms and hurried about their business.

Men in uniform seemed most eager to read the news but they, too, walked on, obviously happy but realizing there still was a struggle ahead with Japan.

The news made no difference in the continued operation of Selective Service.

"Our task remains the same," declared Col. Ralph M. Smith, state director. "The same number of men must continue to be inducted into the armed forces each month. There must be no cessation in providing the Army and Navy with the manpower they need to finish the job as quickly as possible."

Courts continued to function and judges said there would be no suspension of their operation unless the President proclaimed the day one of prayer.

Abp. Cushing, expressing the opinion people would "instinctively turn to their churches and shrines," announced he would leave it to the discretion of his parish priests to provide for litany, public recitation of the rosary and such other observance as they might deem proper. Catholic churches throughout the archdiocese were opened for prayer and meditation.

Similar action was taken in Protestant churches and in synagogues and temples to permit members of those faiths to visit the churches and offer their prayers of thanksgiving and pleas for a speedy end to the war with Japan.

Harvard and Radcliffe planned to dismiss all classes for the day as soon as V-E Day was proclaimed officially. A mass service of thanksgiving will be conducted for all students at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow in Harvard Memorial Church.

Nazi General Gives Up Pilsen, Kills Self

By LARRY NEWMAN

WITH U. S. THIRD ARMY IN PILSEN, May 7 (INS)—Wild celebrations continued in this Czechoslovakian armament city today after its surrender by a German general who a few moments later committed suicide in the presence of his wife and members of his staff.

Despite pleas of his officers, Gen. George von Majewski whipped out an American .45 and shot himself through the head in the Pilsen city hall where he surrendered the city to Col. Harry Perkins of Atlanta, Ga.

As Majewski slumped over his desk, his wife stepped to his side and wiped the blood from his head with a handkerchief.

According to Sgt. Charles H. Peel, Jr., of Binghamton, N. Y., who with Perkins witnessed the suicide, "not an expression changed during the entire drama."

Tanks of the 16th Armored Division entered Pilsen early yesterday as Gen. George S. Patton's forces—last Allied army fighting on the Western Front—drove toward Prague, Czech capital.

In scenes reminiscent of the Allied occupation of Paris, American soldiers were swamped with flowers and kisses by jubilant Czechs.

A tremendous roar rose from the crowd gathered before the city hall when Brig. Gen. John L. Perkins, 16th Armored Division commander, stepped out onto the balcony. The assembled thousands broke into the Czechoslovakian national anthem.

With German troops surrendering throughout the area, more than 4,000 gave up in the city after sporadic sniping from rooftops and other vantage points.

Only the outskirts of Pilsen have been damaged by the war. The great Skoda armaments works is virtually intact.

Soviets Hunt Proof Of Hitler's Death

MOSCOW, May 7 (INS)—Soviet investigators were believed to be questioning captured Nazis in Berlin today trying to reconstruct events leading up to the disappearance of Hitler. The Soviet press reiterated that the Russians would like to see the body of the ex-Fuehrer.

A new but unconfirmed version of the death of Propaganda Chief Paul Joseph Goebbels was that he perished in a suicide pact with his wife and his entire family and that the bodies had been found in an air raid shelter near the Reichstag.

End the War VICTORIOUSLY
Make the Peace PERMANENTLY
Bring Our Boys Home PROMPTLY

ONE WAR IS OVER; OTHER GOES ON

THE WAR is over in Europe. At long last has come V-E Day. The victory that has been so frightfully costly in blood and money is won.

We are thankful that a dangerous enemy of civilization has been eliminated.

We are thankful that no more of our sons will die on Old World soil or in the air above it or in the waters about it.

We are thankful that the door has been opened to a peace that will endure.

We are thankful that the hopes of all men who love democracy and hate tyranny can become reality.

But we cannot rejoice with full heart.

Too many of our loved ones lie under white crosses in alien lands and beneath the waves of foreign seas.

Too many are maimed and crippled and incapacitated as long as they live.

Too much of the progress of the ages has been destroyed.

Too much of the wealth of our own country which could have obliterated poverty and all its evils has been lost in the inferno of waste and ruin.

V-E Day is therefore both a glad day and a solemn day.

It is the kind of day that calls thoughtful men to their temples of worship, there to be contrite for the errors of the past and to ask God's deliverance from a repetition in the future.

ALTHOUGH V-E Day signals a great victory, it does not mark the end of the war for America.

It officially designates the ending of a part of the war.

We still have Japan to meet and defeat.

We still have to overcome and overwhelm the greatest, most powerful enemy of our Western way of life.

We still have to create weapons for battle and supply men to use them.

We still must reckon our security in terms of lost lives and broken hearts.

We cannot and we shall not forget how we got into the war.

Whatever the Germans or the Italians might eventually have done to compel us to go to war with them, it was the JAPANESE who stabbed us in the back at Pearl Harbor.

It was the Japanese who despoiled our soil, desecrated our flag and spilled American blood on that December morning nearly four years ago while we hoped for peace and confidently expected it.

Nor can we forget that we almost lost the war because of Japan.

Because we had to fight the whole Axis—Germany and Italy as well as Japan—we could not fight back at the Japanese as soon or as well as we wished.

Taking advantage of our plight, Japan moved like an octopus over the vast Pacific, her tentacles reaching out for one American possession after another.

Painfully and with a horrible loss of life, we pushed the Japanese conquerors out of the Philippines and Guam and the Aleutians, and now we are reducing the inner citadel of the Empire itself.

BUT WE HAVE MUCH MORE TO DO AND FAR YET TO GO.

WE CANNOT rest or relax or for one moment delude ourselves into thinking the war is over for us.

We must press on with the fight for our life.

We must put all our resources into it and never stop until we win it.

When Japan bows in unconditional surrender and Old Glory flies, vindicated and proud, over Tokyo, then—and then only—can we bring our heroic sons home and join with them in the celebration of VICTORY DAY.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS.

Q—Why do you squawk about being born in July? Everybody in our family was born in July. All wonderful people. Besides, wasn't the United States born on July 4? A—I never squawked about being born in July. I said that people who commented on the July-born usually gave them a bad break such as saying they are usually short-lived and not so smart as people born in January, February and March. Q—Shouldn't The Star Spangled Banner be taken in when it starts to rain? A—According to flag etiquette it should be hauled down in "inclement weather." I don't like the idea. I think somebody should make a waterproof flag so we can keep it flying every day. Q—Was there a cigarette shortage in World War I? A—Don't remember there being one. You must keep in mind that at that time most women did not smoke.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Great is the distress and deep the humiliation of a polyglot group of professional unionneers from several lands, all claiming to be spokesmen of Labor with a capital L, who have been trying to attach themselves to the United Nations Conference.

The host, so to speak, is the CIO and the guests include Sir Walter Citrine, of the British Federation of Trade Unions, who once was misled into assuming that an eminent American gangster must be a very important labor leader in the United States because when he went to London as a fraternal delegate of the American Federation of Labor, he carried nine secretaries with him.

The fraternal delegate was Tommy Maloy of Chicago, long since eliminated by a blast-furnace or sawed-off shotgun and the secretaries were members of the mob which later became the invisible government of the Movie Employes' Union under George Browne and Willie Bioff.

On another occasion, during a visit to New York, Sir Walter was honored by a tea at the Waldorf, given by William Green, the president of the American Federation of Labor, and had the pleasure of meeting under these stately auspices, Joe Fay, who recently was sentenced to two terms in prison for using his union office to practice extortion.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 7—I am sure it will be good news to all Bob Hope's fans that he and Paramount have kissed and made up and he'll start his first picture Aug. 1 when he returns from overseas. The reconciliation was made with Henry Ginsberg, just before Henry went East and it calls for a new seven-year contract.

Although Paramount won't admit this, I am sure that Bob gets a financial participation in each picture he makes.

At the time of the bitter quarrel, Bob said he didn't want to make any pictures because he wanted to devote all his time to camp appearances. I know Bob was sincere about not wanting to make any appearances that conflicted with his war work because he was offered a million dollars for ten personal appearances which he turned down—probably the most fantastic offer which was ever given anyone.

Bob Hope

YOUNG TOM HOLLAND will tell you if you ask him that there is a chance for an unknown in Hollywood and that Cinderella stories come true. Tom was standing outside the RKO building when Mervyn Le Roy saw him. "Are you a picture?" asked Mervyn. "No," replied the young man, "but I would like to be." "What do you do?" asked Mervyn. "I make pottery in Laguna," said Tom. "Well, you are a picture now!" said Mervyn. Without any more ado the director took the young blond giant to Frank Ross' office and without so much as a test the boy was signed for a part in "The Rube." Mervyn said the minute he saw the boy he knew he had something, just as I was sure Lana Turner was a find.

INTERESTING news that Hilda Krueger, German motion picture actress who was a favorite of Hitler, is in Mexico City under the assumed name of Marie Duval. She quarreled with the Fuehrer and left Germany, but that doesn't prevent Mexican authorities from keeping a watchful eye on her. In fact, all the imitation Dietrichs wandering around Mexico City with fake Slavic, French, or Spanish names, are all under constant surveillance. That's as it should be.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: News that interests everyone in Hollywood is the reported engagement of Mrs. Anita Howard, former wife of Lynn Howard of the famous Seabiscuit family, and Multi-Millionaire George Vanderbilt. It's interesting that Georges brother, Alfred Vanderbilt, was once married to Mamie Hudson, a cousin of Anita. While Georges has been courting Mrs. Howard, Alfred has been paying attention to Anita's pretty young daughter. I call that a family affair.

CARY GRANT is preparing to sell the estate he bought in Bel-Air for Barbara Hutton, and to buy Bob Taplinger's cute little house. When Lt. Taplinger was here a few days ago, Cary made him an offer. That means that as soon as Barbara Hutton gets her divorce, Cary will marry Betty Hensel. And I know he sees her, not in public, but secretly. Barbara, however, has made no plans to get her divorce. She told me there is no reason for her to hurry. Her little boy arrives next week and she will want to spend her time with him here.

WHEN PIERRE HUSS, Hearst foreign correspondent, was in Hollywood a few months ago, he prophesied that Hitler would be reported dead before the end of the war in Germany. Pete, as his friends call him, said that one of Hitler's doubles would be put to death and then the Fuehrer would have plastic surgery done and escape. "How do you know?" I asked him. "I have a hunch," he said, "because Hitler is a coward and he won't kill himself nor will he surrender."

SNAPSOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT HAN- DOM: No many people knew that Myrna Loy was seriously ill in Leroy Sanatorium under an assumed name. She's now well and due in Los Angeles today: Good for Capt. Bob Preston, former Paramount actor. He and his group in the medium bomber class, have received a presidential citation for outstanding bravery: Everyone believes that Donna Reed and Tony Owen are secretly married and that the knot was tied a week after her divorce in Mexico: Faye Emerson moved into a new house in Beverly Hills, with Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt helping her to do the moving. He left today for Washington to get his assignment; Lt. Bob Taylor, who was in town for five days, has gone back to New Orleans.

PRETTY INGA ARVAD is now an American citizen and Signe Hasso gave her a party to celebrate the happy event! Estrada, actress at Republic, and Chu Chu Martinez, now singing at the Troc, are a torrid twosome: Mary Martin planned to keep the expected arrival a secret until after she finished "One Touch of Venus" but now that the news is out it is doubtful whether she'll make the picture; Anita Colby and Pat Smart left Sunday for New York. Anita really is Clark Gable's favorite girl friend. He starts his picture today.

Broadway

NEW YORK, May 7—Broadway lawyer-producer David Wolper leaves for California soon to start a new career. His wife, Sylvia, remains in New York to pursue her own career as press agent. . . . Cheever Cowdin, the Universal biggie, is entirely out of danger and will be able to leave Roosevelt Hospital in two weeks instead of three. . . . Stokowski two months as first lord. . . . The usual Broadway producer's plight—having a "great show," but no money—is being radically reversed by Sylvia Sprague, who fashions the girl-shows for Leon and Eddie's. The poor fellow is loaded down with a bankroll that would give indigestion to a hippo—but no show. He's looking desperately for a script, preferably a comedy without music. . . . A life-size head of Leopold Stokowski, done by Boris Lovet Lorki, may go into that noted sculptor's exhibition at the Wildenstein Galleries May 16, marked with the red star which means "sold." Sold, of course, to Gloria VanDerbilt DeCicco Stokowski, whose interest in sculpture is almost as keen as that of her famous sculptress-aunt, Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney—and whose interest in Stokowski is front page news.

RAY MILLAND is being quoted by some locals as saying (with a note of desperation) that he has never dated Irina Baronova in his life, that he doesn't want a divorce from his wife, Mel, and that he feels he can persuade her to reconcile. Really? Then who is that beautiful blond ballerina, Initiated I. B. and recently in "Follow the Girls," who was on his arm at El Morocco several nights last week? . . . Just as New York fashion designers became resigned to the worst shortage of fabric they've ever known (because such immense quantities of rayon, cotton and woolen yardage have been sent to France, England and the rest of Europe on lend-lease), they are visited by French salesmen representing textile firms in Lyons, France, bearing fat sample books of wonderful and varied fabrics all ready for "prompt delivery." Who's looney now?

WASHINGTON, May 7.—When President Truman vetoed a joint resolution of House and Senate to defer farm and war workers the other day, many Capitol reporters naturally assumed it was the first time he had exercised the Executive veto.

It was not. Away back on April 19, before Russia annexed San Francisco, the President performed his initial thumb-downing. He vetoed a bill (H.R. 2053) for the private relief of Ben Grunstein!

NOW Ben Grunstein is presumably quite a fellow in the circles in which he moves and it seems fair to assume his relatives and friends were interested in having him relieved. But apparently the relief of Ben Grunstein had little general interest—which probably explains why the No. 1 Truman veto slipped by unnoticed.

However, I think the populace made a great mistake in being so indifferent. The relief of Ben Grunstein, while possibly not so spectacular as the relief of Lucknow—Lucknow had more dramatic stuff such as a beleaguered garrison, and off-stag bagpipers playing "The Campbells are Coming"—had many intriguing features.

One of these features was that Mr. Truman, as Vice-President, had signed the bill to relieve Mr. Lucknow—I mean Grunstein.

But, on ascending to the Presidency, he vetoed the bill.

I BELIEVE I have spoken about these private relief bills in the past. They are numerous. Legislators are forever dropping them in the hopper on behalf of constituents who would like a little dough from the government.

It seems that Mr. Grunstein, who dwells in Hudson County, N. J., went $2500 bail bond for a Reuben Finn. Mr. Finn was accused of having taken it on the lam, as we say in Supreme Court parlance, and Mr. Grunstein was requested to pay the $2500 as a forfeit.

Mr. Grunstein objected to playing forfeits ("Heavy, heavy, hangs over thy head!") But finally kicked in $1000 on account—on account of that's the least they'd let him get away with.

Mr. Finn later was collared

By George Dixon

by the FBI in Houston, Tex., whereupon Mr. Grunstein argued he should get his grand back. The Department of Justice retorted "No!" saying the cost of locating and apprehending (FBI for "pinching") Mr. Finn had been approximately $1000.

President Truman decided the thing had worked out just about even—and vetoed the bill!

ON APRIL 12, the day President Roosevelt died, 31 bills were delivered from the Capitol to the White House, not one, of course, was ever signed by Mr. Roosevelt, the first bills to receive the executive signature were signed April 15 by Mr. Truman—four days after he took office.

He signed seven of the 31 bills that day—which means they carry his signature twice. He had previously signed them as Vice-President and President of the Senate.

The next batch of bills came in April 23, but by now they carried the signature of Sen. Kenneth McKellar as Senatorial President Pro Tempore.

THE AMERICAN Public Relations Association is composed of parties who do public relations work for various large concerns and industries.

They have a luncheon in the Washington hotel every Thursday, and each week they have door prizes. These prizes are furnished by the speaker of the day and represent the choice products of the industry. Well—last Thursday the speaker was Don Moninger, of the American Meat Institute!

THE MEMBERS held on to their door tickets, their imaginations drooling with thoughts of winning a side of beef, or anyway a 12-pound steak. Tension during the drawing was almost unbearable. Finally the principal winner was announced and Mr. Moninger addressed the hushed assemblage:

"I think the prize I am about to present today is rather choice. It is certainly in keeping with the fine tradition of our organization."

Then, with the air of a feudal lord heaping largesse upon a vassal, he handed the winner—a Potomac River rockfish!

Boston After Dark

SATURDAY NIGHT was not the loneliest night of the week to the clerks of a Roslindale market. . . . In fact, the attendants of the store—a chain's unit—were nearly mobbed by angry housewives who heard that the store had been selling meat, and refused to accept the clerks' "all sold out" announcements. . . . A police brawl car brought order to the scene.

MONDAY MUSINGS: V-E Day has been discounted, and when official news of the conquest of Germany comes, Boston—in line with the rest of the country—will have done its major celebrating. . . . This is the opinion of police authorities who request that they be not quoted by name in this particular instance. . . . We think the request for an off-the-record quotation on this score is good judgment. . . . When V-E Day becomes a fact, this column's opinion is that the community will blow off steam by rushing the hotels and night clubs. . . . Servicemen who happen to be on leave or furlough will lead the rush, we think.

SUNDAY NIGHT was nonetheless the most quiet night since our boys started racing through continental Europe in their parade over the Nazis. . . . The nightclubs and hotel rooms were so lacking in patrons that World War I artillery would have mowed down little else than waiters or musicians if placed in a position commanding the Rialto on Beacon Hill. . . . The hurried explanation was that the spending customers were glued to their radio sets, awaiting big news from Europe.

MUCH OF the public and many of the town's commercial hosts seem to think it probable that President Truman or Gen. Eisenhower would proclaim V-E Day on Sunday, when the populace's mind might be turned religiously. . . . In the opinion of your reporter, this is not entirely logical. . . . The government's first concern, we think, will be one of regard for the well-being of nearly a million American soldiers and sailors who are enjoying week-end liberty in the Continental United States. . . . Had the news of victory over Germany been made public and official during the Sunday waking hours, the boys in uniform might well have led their civilian countrymen in a smashing celebration.

SUCH A CELEBRATION might well be followed by unauthorized leaves of absence which could raise hob with military discipline. . . . No, we think that the news of V-E Day will break one day this week after it is dispensed first to all commanding generals and admirals-in-charge of fleet units in this country.

MORE MUSINGS: "Carousel's" smash hit in New York is a tribute to the shrewd showmanship and rewriting of Oscar Hammerstein. . . . The play's second act is the one which is being cheered by New York's critics and public. . . . In Boston, the second act was so wobbly and overdrawn that the entire endeavor—one of high purpose and skill—seemed to those who underrated Mr. Hammerstein, as doomed. . . . Mr. Hammerstein went to work with a vengeance after the premiere, and fixed up his show so that it is rated a smash.

IT IS UNFORTUNATE that "Memphis Bound," the Bill Robinson-Avon Long harlequinade which derives from Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore," can't enjoy enough time in Boston, or some other city away from New York, so that it too, can be fixed. . . . Show-wise persons—who have sat through the boring "Memphis Bound" hold out some hope that the offering can be converted into a hit. . . . But "Memphis Bound"—at this writing—heads for a New York premiere a week from tonight. . . . No living theatrical technician can fix the sprawling mess up in that time. . . . Given at least a month out of town, and with Harry Wagstaff Gribble in charge, the jazzified version of the Gilbert-Sullivan classic is conceded a chance.

THE FIRST major failure of an important mercantile establishment in Boston is ascribed to the store's policy of trying to sell women's clothing (such as slacks and tailored suits) while featuring a line of men's merchandise at the same time. . . . The store was the Boston unit of a chain of 50 similar establishments. . . . But in other cities, the enterprise is prospering.

Miners Defy Federal Orders

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 7 (AP)—Pennsylvania's 72,000 anthracite miners defied the government's orders to return to work today at 263 operations seized Thursday by Sec. Ickes under presidential direction.

The miners said they had received no instruction from John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, to report back to their jobs.

Grand Slam Wins Wife Divorce

She endured being struck and knocked down steps and being left waiting at the dock without tickets when they were making a trip to Bermuda, but Mrs. Pamela Church Farrington, former Newton socialite, walked out on Donald Hall Farrington, her clubman husband, when he threw a metal deck of cards at her while playing bridge.

So she testified yesterday in Middlesex Probate Court where Judge George N. Poland awarded her an uncontested divorce, custody of two children—Pamela G. 9, and Stephen H., 4—and continued temporary support of $100 a week for the two children.

"I was thinkin'..." by Izzy Ort

We fokes here at me popular Grille and swank El Tropic Room on Essex street were a pretty sad bunch about four months ago when one of our former employees, Pfc. Ernest R. Nadeau of Cambridge, was reported killed in action. But you kin imagine our feelings, then, when we picked up a Thursday Record to find that he is in a German prison camp, but alive! Thank God he's all right, and I sure hope they all git back mighty soon. For some topflight entertainment, best to come down and see the fruits of me labors, coz yers trooly has been in the Big City for a few days, scouring Broadway for talent good enough to give you fokes in me Grille and El Tropic Room. Yessir, I loosed Broadway over upside down and backwards, worked real hard at it, and believe me you'll continue to see the best in Boston floor shows right here on Essex street. To yers trooly, though, the highest acts in the world is bein' put on right now fer about $50 a month in Germany and on Okinawa, by the best performers in the world, the American fighters. And buleve me, fokes, you ain't got the right to even read about it or applaud it unless you've got a ticket, which is the biggest War Bond you kin afford! 25 Essex Street. Adv.

Congress Medal For F. D. Blocked

WASHINGTON, May 7 (INS) — Rep. John M. Robison (R.) of Kentucky today temporarily blocked passage of a House bill awarding the Congressional Medal of Honor posthumously to Franklin D. Roosevelt. Objection by one Congressman is sufficient to block approval.

"For nearly 100 years the medal under law can only be awarded to those who go far beyond their duty and perform extraordinary service in combat," Robison told the House.

"The President does not need this to honor him," he added. "He was elected President four times. This will add nothing to his honor."

Robison explained that Abraham Lincoln did not receive a Congressional Medal of Honor, although the Civil War President was assassinated "while the commander-in-chief."

He also pleaded not guilty to charges as attempted arson and burglary in Methuen and larceny of $5 from Mrs. Franks.

Dear Bill:

As you know, Mabel and I have been making the rounds for a long time — and we've definitely decided that and we've definitely decided that the best buy of all in Boston is the HOTEL BRADFORD ROOF and SKY BAR, HOTEL BRADFORD ROOF and SKY BAR, Alan Gale, who heads a smart show, is one of the finest comedians I have ever seen. Our diners cost us only $1.50 (and they were delicious). We got in at five when they open and we started dancing at seven — saw their 7:45 show and were tempted to wait for the second show at 10:30, but, we had tickets for the theatre, we were so impressed we're arranging to make the Bradford Roof a "must" every week. Call HW 1400 and make your reservations.

Joe

Restaurant Week Slogan 'Eat Well'

With the slogan, "Eat Well to Work Well," more than 10,000 restaurants in the state today began observance of National Restaurant Week, which will continue through next Sunday, under auspices of the Massachusetts Restaurant Ass'n, in co-operation with the nation-wide campaign.

In an announcement to restaurants, John W. Stokes, president of the MRA, said the importance and responsibility of restaurants in providing adequate meals, especially for the millions engaged in war work, will be emphasized during the week.

"To maintain a high rate of efficiency reduce absenteeism and accidents, workers must keep in good health, and this depends on well-balanced, nutritional meals," Stokes stated.

Neutrality Hinders Abbey Theater

Once the Abbey Theater was the marrow of Irish drama, writes R. M. Fox in the current Theatre Arts Magazine... "now it seems to have fallen into a rural rut... dissatisfaction has led to resignation and some of the best ex-Abbey players have now banded together in a Player's Company which is to play in the provinces and the capital. Eire's neutral status in the world rules out the present matters of international conflict, for Eire must scrupulously avoid giving offense to either section of belligerents. This is a serious limitation to the Irish stage."

New-Found Loveliness

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

IT'S SPRING . . . and you want to stay out in the sun, breathe in the air, feel the caress of gentle zephyrs on your skin. You've taken off your fur coat, and your heavy suit . . . but you're still wearing your winter face . . . your winter figure. Change that now, too . . . change over to spring with your posture, your litheness, your bright new make-up, your smooth, clear complexion. You can bridge the gap with some perfect treatments. In surroundings of modern efficiency and fastidiousness . . . professionals trained under the personal direction of a noted beautician and in her inimitable technique . . . perform daily small miracles in the transformation of body and face.

We had a "matinee morning" there and we feel it is super short-time rejuvenator. Here's a resume of what it consists of. Your treatment will begin at 9:30 with one hour of luxurious, relaxing body massage. An absolute cat-stretch combined with a lulling and toning of your flesh . . . the massage will stimulate your circulation and bring a glow to your skin. You finish off with an invigorating Scotch Hose and a rubdown with a luxuriously thick turkish towel . . . and you are ready for the hair shop.

PLAN HOME TREATMENT

Your hair is brushed and scrubbed and shampooed until it squeaks with cleanliness. Your hairdresser has studied the contour of your face and will arrange your hair in the style which is most appropriate and flattering. Then while you are under the dryer, a manicurist will do your nails, painting them with a gleaming polish that will match your make-up. Now you are ready for your face treatment.

Once again, your type is carefully studied . . . the quality of your skin, the shape of your face . . . your personal skin problems are weighed before the treatment is begun. These factors determine the creams that will be used . . . how make-up will be applied. For one hour . . . rich creams and fragrant lotions are patted into your skin as tiny lines fade . . . muscles respond . . . and magic fingertips smooth away strain and fatigue. Each step is explained and a home treatment is outlined.

Then on a skin that is clean beyond any dream of cleanliness . . . flushed with natural, healthful look of good circulation . . . your make-up is applied. Then back to the hair shop for the combing out. You can hardly believe it is you reflected in the glass . . . you seem to have a new sparkle, a new aliveness. Think about this now . . . and do something about it tomorrow.

Where to enjoy this matinee morning will be disclosed if you phone the Beauty Dept., LIB-erty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Pale Neutrals Are Style Favorites

By BETTINA BEDWELL

AS SUMMER gets nearer, the pale neutrals get to be about the most important bread-and-butter shades in the styles. And you can find them in very grand clothes for dress-up and evening, too.

The shade we call "natural" is the top-flight neutral, for it comes in raw silk and in other summer fabrics. A suit in this palest beige shade is a best bet for the whole season.

Among suits of natural colored fabrics, the one sketched from Sophie is about the finest. Sophie, who is a master at the suit, makes this one of natural colored crepe, with a jacket that buttons up the front of a slim jacket, and an easy, graceful skirt. The jacket has turn-back cuffs that are faced with black and white crepe, the material that makes the charming blouse that belongs so completely to the suit. The blouse collar shows around the neck of the jacket.

Beauty

YOU'LL SAY "what a difference a morning makes" after you've enjoyed a 4-hour "matinee morning" . . . including a body massage, a face treatment, shampoo, finger wave, manicure and make-up . . . at a swanky infatow salon . . . a super series of beauty drills designed to give you excitement and beauty in the transitional transformation from winter to spring.

Schedule for Breakfast

By MARTHA LEE

NUTRITIONAL and medical authorities recommend that breakfast should provide from one-fourth to one-third of the individual's daily food requirements, not only in calories but so far as possible in all essential nutrients as well (protein, carbohydrates, fat, vitamins, and minerals). An easily remembered basic breakfast pattern is fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. To meet individual food requirements other foods such as eggs, or breakfast meats may have to be added to this basic pattern.

It is important to know that a breakfast of average servings of each of the "basic pattern" foods totals about 600 calories. Simplest way to have a good breakfast is to plan and to have the food on hand. Foresight the night before will cut breakfast preparation.

Here are three ways to speed breakfast:

1. Set the breakfast table before you finish the dinner dishes; or place the necessary silver and dishes on a tray, ready to carry to the table.

2. Write down the menu and preparation schedule in advance. Soon the preparation becomes automatic.

3. Keep a good variety of cereal breakfast foods on hand for the "main dish."

20-MINUTE BREAKFAST

Orange Juice
Cereal (to be cooked) Milk
Soft-Cooked Eggs
Hot Buttered Toast
Coffee
Milk
Preparation schedule:
1—Measure water for cereal; put on to boil.

PLAIN MUFFINS

2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
3/4 tsp. salt 2 tbsp. sugar
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
2 to 4 tbsp. shortening, melted

Sift flour; measure; add baking powder, salt and sugar; sift again. Combine egg, milk and melted shortening (slightly cooled); pour into flour mixture and stir just enough to moisten the dry ingredients. Do not beat. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full and bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 12 to 15 medium-sized muffins.

Which Teen-Age Girl Are You?

Some teen-age girls have such good sense, such an endearing appreciation of human values, that they establish a fine partnership with their parents, and pull their own weight in the home-craft. Others lock their parents out of their "private life," and make not the slightest effort to pull their own weight. Teen-age, which are YOU? MRS. BECKMAN.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Sunday—A friend of mine has just sent me a prayer by John Oxenham, a British poet. It is a very beautiful prayer for older people, or for people who have spent themselves so greatly that they fear not to be able to give their best in their remaining years on earth:

"Lord, when thou seest that my work is done,
Let me not linger here with failing powers,
A workless worker in a world of work;
But with a word, just bid me home and I will come.
Right gladly will I come, yea—right gladly will I come—"

I HAVE ALWAYS felt that one could have a certain sense of resignation when people die who have lived long and useful lives. My rebellion has always been over the deaths of young people.

A friend of mine, however, not long ago said something to me which may be comforting to many other women.

She remarked that what she should feel he had fulfilled his mission in life; that if he had not spent himself during this war, fighting for the things in which he believed, he would feel empty. If he died and was not here to carry on in peacetime, she would still not rebel.

OF ONE THING I am sure: Young or old, in order to be useful we must stand for the things we feel are right, and we must work for those things wherever we find ourselves.

It does very little good to believe something unless you tell your friends and associates of your beliefs. Those who fight down in the market place are bound to be confused now and then.

Sometimes they will be deceived, and sometimes the dirt that they touch will cling to them.

But if their hearts are put and their purposes are unwavering, they will win through to the end of their mission on earth, untroubled.

Kane Played for Cut In School Budget

Acting action of Mayor Kane of Woburn in slashing the school committee budget resulted in custodians and matrons having to work for as little as a dollar a week until they received back pay through State Supreme Court action, the legislative committee on municipal finance was told today.

The statement was made by William B. Ward, president of the Massachusetts State Council of Municipal, County and State Employees. He appeared in opposition to a bill that would prohibit city councils from granting pay increases unless the money were included in the budgets of mayors.

Racing Handicappers in New Bids to Pick Winners

By JACK CONWAY

WITH RACING preparing to resume as soon as the government presses the button giving it the green light, the noble handicappers are deep in their figures trying to get some form on the horses that will race in New England.

Dave Wilson, Dave Komie and Bill McAuley are cramping on their racing dope much like young men brushing up for a college examination in mathematics.

The race track handicapper is as much a figure man as a student of Einstein. If he permits himself to pick horses on information, hunches and because he likes a certain jockey he will find himself out in left field at the end of a meeting, and what they have seen of the thoroughbreds in training at Narragansett Park and at Suffolk Downs.

In a year when there has been regular racing the horses usually journey from Florida to New England with a few of them stopping off for races in Maryland. This simplifies the job of a handicapper. He can figure out probable winners from what the horses have done in their last three or four races.

The only racing since Florida closed early in January has been in Mexico City, and none of the horses that have been racing in Mexico will appear in New England until summer. If Gay Dalton were to race at Narragansett Park or Suffolk Downs, one could back him with considerable confidence. He was the standout of the Mexico City meeting, according to Bill McAuley who spent the winter south of the border.

Dave Wilson, Dave Komie and Bill McAuley may be found at the tracks mornings getting the last-minute information on the thoroughbreds that will compete in New England. They will find out which stables are ready to win purses in the early race sessions.

Keating Has 12 Horses

JIM KEATING, Boston leather man, has 12 horses at Suffolk Downs, according to E. E. Russell. "Our horses will be ready to race by June 1," Russell told me. "Thor Barton and Penny Pincher are the best thoroughbreds in our barn. We have 12 horses in all, and they are rapidly rounding into condition."

Irving Gushen informs me he has been spending $1200 a month to keep his stable of six horses, now at Narragansett Park, prepared for the New England opening.

"Unknown Reward, Leo McLaughlin, Harpschord, Ronald M., Nimrod and Say Sandy are the horses I have in training," said Gushen.

Gushen, like Keating, is in the leather business. Sam Garfield is another prominent leather man who has a first class racing stable.

New England business men have gone in for the owning of racing stables in a large way. This will do much to lift the standard of the turf game in this part of the country.

Mell's Star Stars

GUS MELL, 19-year-old Canadian lightweight, made a wise decision when he decided to take a rest in the wilds of Canada. Mell, badly beaten by Sal Bartolo, is a growing boy. He requires rest and instruction in boxing by an experienced boxer if he is to get the most out of his natural ring ability.

Mell moved up so rapidly from the ranks of preliminary boxers that he didn't have an opportunity to take time out to learn the art of boxing. The result is he is a poor fighter, and he relies too much on his ability as a counter puncher. One has to be an attacking fighter if he is to reach the heights.

There is no reason for Mell to be discouraged by his decisive setback at the hands of Bartolo. The latter is an experienced, finished champion. It took Sal years to acquire the ring polish he has today.

Mell should take things easy for several months and then battle opponents who rate below Bartolo in class. Gus showed courage and willingness in his losing bout with Bartolo, but these assets are not sufficient to win when pitted against ring class.

Cuccinello Paces A. L. Hitters With .395

It took Tony Cuccinello 11 years and 10 months to the day to atone for his innumerable Comiskey Park debut, according to the Associated Press.

The veteran White Sox infielder made his first appearance in the Sox home grounds in the first major league all-star game July 6, 1933, as a pinch hitter for the National League, and was struck out by Lefty Grove for the final out of the game.

Yesterday, the 37-year-old third sacker hit a three-run homer in the eighth inning of the second game to enable the league-leading Sox to sweep both ends of a doubleheader from Cleveland, 32 and 6-4. The twin victory gave the Pale Hose a half-game lead over the second-place Yankees, who split with the Red Sox.

"Cooch's four-base smash made him the American League's leading batter with a .395 average, six percentage points above Vern Stephens' figure. The stocky Long Islander, playing with his fifth team in 15 years in the majors, is enjoying his best season at the plate with 15 hits in 38 at bats and eight runs driven in.

Firpo, Jackson Top Mack's Show

By BILL SMITH

Pedro Firpo, sixth ranking lightweight in the country, will be shooting for an outdoor match with Willie Pep when he meets Paulie Jackson of Reading, Pa., in the 10-round feature bout of the Callahan A. C. show at Mechanics Building, Thursday night.

The dusky Camden flash gave Larry Bolvin a thorough drubbing in his last Boston appearance and hopes to administer the same dose to Jackson.

While a stranger to these parts, Jackson is well known to Firpo, having scored two decisions over the latter in three bouts. Firpo has one triumph to his credit.

Matchmaker Eddie Mack has announced that the winner of the Firpo-Jackson fight will be signed to meet Pep and this added incentive should spur them both to fever pitch.

Happy Means It

VERSAILLES, Ky., May 7 (AP)—Baseball's long commissioner today re-emphasized his "advice" to ball players and umpires to stay away from race tracks.

"It is not immediately clear whether the commissioner has jurisdiction over players and umpires at times other than during the playing season and affiliated times, but if anyone wants to test it—"

That was Happy Chandler's reply to a question on what action he would take if players and umpires disregard his "advice" and go to the race tracks on off days.

the Tigers both games 3-0 and 1-0.

The Giants added to their National League lead by winning the opener of a double header from the Braves 4-3, and tying the second 1-1. Brooklyn moved into second place by winning two from Philadelphia 7-5 and 10-7 before 11,712. The Cardinals demolished Chicago for third by winning both games from the Cubs 6-2 and 5-1.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati split. The Reds won the opener 3-1 and the Pirates took the nightcap 5-1. The Athletics and Washington broke even, the Mackmen winning the opener 3-2 and the Senators taking the aftermath 2-0.

Hub Schools Start Golf

By MIKE GILLOOLY

"Heads down! Keep your left arms stiff!"

That's the cry that echoes through the Boston high school corridors today as the newly introduced golf program in the city moves into high gear—even going so far as to have a meeting of all candidates and coaches at the Franklin Park course for professional instruction.

They were all gathered for an open conference today with pro Harold McGrail before settling down to preliminary instruction by their own coaches in their own schools.

Quite sensibly, the kids won't go tearing into this new program to blast open fox-holes on the city's courses. They'll all have at least four or five lessons on fundamentals before they will be allowed to move onto the park or the George Wright greens. These will include weekly conference with a golf pro.

As a typical example, Coach Charlie Doherty at Roxbury Memorial has called out his candidates and about 20 boys have reported so far. It seems that all, with the exception of one or two, are novices so that Coach Doherty's job will be to concentrate on the simplest lessons and golf etiquette.

Then, he'll take them out on the course, divide them into groups and move from one to the other.

But the prospective golfers will cause no break in the baseball schedule. All told, the Boston schoolboys will have 22 games this week, starting off the program with a six-tilt slate today. And unless some team starts to show off on Boston's English Bobby Shaw and Phil Cohen, the Blue and Blue will take over honors of being the first Hub nine to enter the Eastern Mass. championships.

Coach Joe Sheehan's English team has three contests this week. Today the Sheehan A. C. faced Jamaica Plain; Wednesday, Hyde Park, and Friday, Trade.

JOHN WARNER TALKS ABOUT HAIR CARE

Our professional business is, in simple English, the care and treatment of the hair and scalp. First of all, let me be very blunt and say very simply but emphatically that we do not and cannot regrow hair. And as far as we have been able to determine neither can anyone else. Secondly, we wish to make it quite plain that our only function is to provide men and women with a simple, sensible and effective method of treating the hair and scalp so as to keep it healthy, alive and attractive.

The three thousand men and women who visit our offices each week are people whom we sincerely believed could be helped. These clients know how we work and how effective our work is or they would not continue to come to us for treatment.

The best evidence of our integrity is to visit one of our offices to experience for yourself how we work. There is no charge or obligation for a private examination and consultation. If you decide then to take treatment, the decision is entirely yours. We employ no salesmen. Our treatments are at your convenience and the modest fee we charge is payable only when you take a treatment.

Hours: Monday, Wednesday and Friday 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 9:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m.
